CCAM Update

CCAM Introduction

Mission

The CCAM issues policy recommendations and implements activities that improve the availability, accessibility, and efficiency of transportation for the following targeted populations:

People with Disabilities

Older Adults

Individuals of Low Income

History

The CCAM is an interagency partnership established in 2004 by Executive Order 13330 to coordinate the efforts of the federal agencies that fund transportation for targeted populations.

Organization

NCMM Survey Findings

The National Center for Mobility Management (NCMM) conducted a survey from June to November 2018 to gather input from state and local stakeholders to identify promising practices, barriers, and challenges around coordinated transportation.

Benefits

Most respondents see a variety of benefits to coordinating transportation:

- 86% Enhances the ability to serve constituents
- 79% Improves the quality of transportation services
- 78% Enables organizations to serve more people

Barriers

The most commonly reported barriers to transportation coordination are:

Participation

72% of respondents participate in transportation coordination. The most common activities are:

Awareness

Improvement can be made in increasing awareness of transportation coordination.

While 60% are aware of transportation coordination activities in their state or community, 20% are not aware of such activities.

Program Analysis Work Groups

The CCAM is currently conducting Program Analysis Work Groups to support the CCAM's goal to develop cost sharing policies and make recommendations to improve local transportation coordination.

Work Group Objectives

Validate the list of federal programs for which transportation for targeted populations is an eligible expense

Document program budgets and transportation spending

Confirm which programs' funds may be used to fulfill local match requirements of other federal programs
